ANNOUNCEMENTS

Alice Brady in a Self-Made Widow
The Feature Today and Tuesday at the Auditorium—Coming Wednesday and Thursday, Clara Kimball Young in The Badge of Shame—Matinee 2:30; Evening 7 and 8:30.

When a Self-Made Widow, the new William A. Brady feature, comes to the Auditorium theatre today and Tuesday the patrons of this theatre will have the opportunity of seeing Miss Alice Brady in a particularly fascinating role, that of an unsophisticated young country girl, who very romantic and who elopes to New York city with a handsome city man. But when she reaches New York she finds that her prospective husband has a wife and several children. Rather than admit her mistake she takes a desperate chance and stays in New York under false pretensions, and what comes from the situation are shown in the drama. The whole production is different in its delightful comedy-drama of the west called Mouth Organ Jack and a very funny comedy with a happy ending called The Yellow Ticket, William Russell in Masked Hilarity, a strong drama today in five acts and Shorty Hamilton in a comedy-drama of the west complete the programme.

BRED THEATRE

Jane Grey in Her Fighting Chance, a Photoplay of Human Appeal, Feature for Today and Tuesday.

Today and Tuesday Jane Grey will be seen in Her Fighting Chance, at the Bred theatre. This powerful Jane Grey vehicle is a dramatization of The Fiddling Man by James Oliver Curwood, who belongs to that small group of well known writers of high class fiction whose works are readily adapted to the screen. His characters are of the real red blooded sort—bearded men, virile men who do interesting things, and his works abound in the action so necessary to successful picture drama. The Fiddling Man has a wide discussion because of the unusual predicament in which the heroine is placed during her fight to save her husband from death. Her exceptional popularity enjoyed by the novel promises much for Her Fighting Chance, especially with such a powerful emotional actress as Jane Grey as the wife.

Jane Grey's appearance in a new photodrama like this charming little star's appearance in his first picture—is of special interest to the hosts of theatre patrons, who have long recognized her as an actress of wonderful versatility and exceptional ability, and her appearance in a James Oliver Curwood story, in which she plays such a sensational role, as that of Marie in Her Fighting Chance gives an added interest to the announcement.

Other pictures on the bill include Pearl White in The Fatal Ring and the Hearst-Pathé Weekly.

DAVIS THEATRE.

William Desmond in The Feature Picture, Flying Colors.

One of the greatest photoplays ever presented in this city will be seen at this theatre the first half of this week. The big attraction is William E. Hart, the great delineator of western characters in his first feature production, "The Narrow Trail," in six acts. The story of "The Narrow Trail" is one of intense heart appeal and affords Mr. Hart a wide opportunity for the display of his great talents. One of the thrilling bits of the play is a fight between Hart and two of his company. The realism and sheer desperation has no equal in cinema history. No gloves were worn in this battle, and Hart as well as his antagonists were badly bruised after it was over. William Desmond the most popular of Triangle men stars appears in the other feature Flying Colors, as a happy-go-lucky college youth who turns detective, discovers some lost jewels and captures a beautiful prize. This is a comedy drama in five acts and is full of "pep" from start to finish. To complete the show there is a funny Triangle comedy entitled His Unconscious Conscience.

Will Lecture at Wheeler School.
The public is cordially invited to hear Mrs. Marcia H. Arents, who will give a lecture on "Russia as it is," October 24, at 8 o'clock, on the subject "Russia as I Knew It." She will wear Russian costumes and her intimate knowledge of the country and people of Russia should make what she has to relate extremely interesting. There will be no charge for admission. On Wednesday, October 25, there will be a meeting of the young people of the town in the library. There will be a patriotic programme, a talk about the Liberty Loan, a dramatic law, a limit of the school will be on view for the first time. "Wheeler" has eleven representatives in the service of the government. This is thirty-one per cent. of the total number of male graduates.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, Harance C. Perry of Westbury, was elected to fill the vacancy made by the death of Mr. Browning. Mr. Perry will also act as treasurer of the corporation.

The registration this year is approximately the same as last year, but the boarding department shows a decided increase. Pupils are in attendance from eight states and two foreign countries.

The annual Halloween party will be held this year on November 2. The place is a secret known only to the committee in charge.

WHERE IS THE MOTHER

with a child who is rundown, has pale cheeks or thin blood, who will hesitate to give that child the very thing it needs to start it growing and keep it going? For over forty years the concentrated liquid-food in Scott's Emulsion has been changing thinness to plumpness—changing poor blood to rich blood. There is nothing better for growing children—whether they are weak or well—than Scott's Emulsion, but see that you get the genuine Scott's.

KILLED BY ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF HIS SHOTGUN

Paul Lang, 18, of Westbrook, Was on Hunting Trip.

Westbrook, Conn., Oct. 21.—Paul Lang, 18 years old, was almost instantly killed here Saturday afternoon by the accidental discharge of his shotgun while on a hunting trip near the "Leather Man's" Cave. With four others about his own age, Lang stopped for a rest in a rocky spot and laid down his gun on a ledge. The weapon slipped and the hammer struck a stone, the whole charge of shot hitting the youth in the stomach. He died before medical aid could reach him.

Lang is the son of Mrs. Robert Lang of this place.
